— Attorneys at Law —

ABOUT

Ms. Khoo is uniquely poised within the firm as part of its transactional and litigation departments.

Within the transactional department, Ms. Khoo focuses her practice on intellectual property matters, including prosecuting trademarks and copyrights and appearing in proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeals Board. She routinely helps clients build, license, maintain, and enforce their intellectual property portfolios. Ms. Khoo has also negotiated and closed several commercial real estate purchases and sales involving large institutional investors, as well as counseled clients on matters of corporate governance, shareholder agreements and disputes, and stock purchases.

As part of the litigation department, Ms. Khoo has handled a wide variety of cases in the areas of patent, copyright, and trademark infringement, wage and hour, and contract and corporate law. She has represented clients at both the trial and appellate levels and in federal and state venues.

REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

- Successfully prosecuted and defended cancellation and opposition proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeals Board
- Negotiated and drafted several licensing agreements on behalf of licensors and licensees
- Argued before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to avoid confirmation of an arbitration award against a client in excess of $7 million
- Obtained a full dismissal for a client sued in a breach of contract action early in litigation and without any settlement payment to plaintiff
